Citation by Publication. THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Bexar, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Bexar County—Greeting:

Whereas, John H. Copeland, attorney for Michael Courtney, has filed his suit before me on the 9th day of May, A. D. 1911, against Owen E. Courtney and Dora L. Courtney, his wife, to recover of said Owen E. Courtney and Dora L. Courtney the sum of one hundred and ten dollars ($100) due upon account to said Michael Courtney, and the said Michael Courtney, through his said attorney John H. Copeland, having made oath before me that said Owen E. Courtney and Dora L. Courtney, his wife, are non-residents of this State of Texas.

These are therefore to command you that you summon, by publication for four successive weeks in some newspaper published in the city of San Antonio, Bexar County, Texas, the said Owen E. Courtney and Dora L. Courtney, his wife, the defendants, to be and appear before me, at my office in the city of San Antonio, State and County aforesaid, on the second Monday in August, A. D. 1912, to answer the suit of said Michael Courtney, plaintiff, in the sum of one hundred and ten dollars, as shown by account filed in my office.

Herein fail not, but at this writ make due return, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand at office in the city of San Antonio the 10th day of June, A. D. 1911. ANTON ADAM, Justice of the Peace Precinct No. 1, Bexar Co.

Came to hand June 19, 1911, at 10 o'clock a. m., and executed June 19, 1911, by causing this citation to be published in the San Antonio Light, a newspaper published in Bexar County, for four successive weeks. 6-20-31-11

FRED BAUER, Constable.

A Type of Beauty.

Here hang my bangs over eyes that dream, And nose and round full lips for cream. And here's my chin with dimples in, This is my neck without a speck.

Which doth these snowy shoulders deck; and here is—see, oh, double T O N, which girls all wear like me; and here's a heart, from Copal's dart sale, shielded by this corset's art. This is my waist, too tightly laced on which a bustle big is placed.

This is my dress. Its cost I guess, did my poor papa mind dress, because he sighed when mama tried it on, and scolded so I cried, but mama said I soon would wed and buy me a dress for him.

Instead, it's trimmed with lace just in this place, 'neath which two ankles show, with arched, in slither hose to catch the heat who think they're lovely. I suppose. These are my feet to slippers now if we meet, we'll first a little on the street. How sweet.

The Tune the Old Cow Died On. There was an old cow in Kentucky Who considered herself very lucky; she loved a queer room, And found it no use To attempt to toss up her "dear ducky."

One morning while "mooing" her praises The hay in the barn went to "blazes." Then when the cow looked And saw her good room, She turned up her hoofs to the daisies. —The Dairy.

Topnoody. Mr. Topnoody sat for a long time the other evening, studying the fire in a reflective mood, building a pretty fancy about a jet of flame, only to have it go out in smoke, and wreathing about a glowing coal a chaplet of happy thoughts, only to see it smoulder and fade away into dust and ashes. At last he said to his wife:

"My dear, would you be sorry if I were to die?" "Don't talk that way, Topnoody," she replied. "Of course I would."

"Sometimes, my dear, I think it would be a relief to you if I should join that innamorable throng which goes on before."

"No, no, it wouldn't." "But you could find some one else to take my place."

"I know it, Topnoody, but you mustn't die." "Why not, my dear?" he persisted, thinking a tender chord was touched.

"Because, black is so awfully unbecoming to me, and you know I'd have to wear it a year or more. But it's just like you, Topnoody, to go and die now, simply to compel me to make a fright of myself."

Mr. Topnoody stopped talking, covered up the fire, and went to bed.

Miscellaneous. A scandalous story comes from Washington to the effect that a Congressman has become insane because enamored of a French enchantress, and followed her to France. We presume he is going to Havre—Springfield, Ohio, Sunday News.

A traveling man wastes enough time in talking around hotel offices and other loafing places every year to learn any one of the modern languages, or pick up a useful knowledge of any one of the sciences. Did you ever think of this, boys?—[Drummer.

Oh, pretty girl! Oh, charming girl! The loveliest flower that nods and blows; You dearest thing, That poets sing— Please brush that smut off of your nose.

A Buffalo man pleaded with the doorkeeper at the museum to let him in for half price because he had but one eye. The doorkeeper couldn't see it in that way, and made him pay double, claiming that it would take him twice as long to see the show.—Exchange.

An awful mash, A little cash, Two hearts that beat as one. * * * * *

Ain't got a cent, To pay the rent, Got darn it, where's the fun? —The Drummer.

An accommodating Chicago drummer gave his place in the car to a young miss who was seatless. The gentlemanly act led to his marrying the lady, who proved to be an heiress worth $50,000.—[Exchange.

Well, that's not such an awful big premium for marrying that kind of a girl.—[Independent.

Quite a considerable industry, it is stated, has sprung up in England recently, namely, that of making paint from steel scale, for the protection of iron and steel from corrosion. The scale is that which falls from the metal as it passes through the rolls; this is ground by special machinery, until as free from grit as flour, and is then mixed with boiling oil and coloring matter. The paint thus prepared is of two kinds—the anti-corrosive, for use above water to prevent rust, and the anti-fouling, this latter to be used under water to prevent animal or vegetable life from attaching itself to ships' bottoms and other iron work—the prevention, in either case, being complete.

Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a strain of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some ailment of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, particularly at night after getting warm in bed, is a very common attendant. Hing Bleeding and Itching Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure where all other remedies have failed. Price 50 cents. Sold by C. Schaefer, A. Dreiss and J. Orndahl.
